Although it will generally fall to your accountant to prepare the FBT return from your software file or other records, all of the instances where you have provided employees and/or their associates (e.g. spouse) with a potential fringe benefit may not always be apparent to them. To assist you in bringing these potential benefits to the attention of your accountant, following is a general checklist (non-exhaustive).

CAR FRINGE BENEFITS

	Y	N		Y	N
» Does a car fringe benefit arise? For FBT purposes a "car" is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> any motor-powered road vehicle (including a four-wheel drive) that is designed to carry: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> less than one tonne, and fewer than nine passengers. 	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	» Is the vehicle a dual cab vehicle? If so, the vehicle will qualify for the work-related use exemption only if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> it is designed to carry a load of one tonne or more, and more than eight passengers, or while having a designed load capacity of less than one tonne, it is not designed for the principal purpose of carrying passengers. 	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
» Were any vehicles provided to employees (or associates) during the FBT year? You make a car available for private use by an employee on any day that either: (a) the car is actually used for private purposes by the employee or (b) the car is available for the private use of the employee. A car is treated as being available for private use by an employee on any day that either: (a) the car is not at the employer's premises, and the employee is allowed to use it for private purposes, or (b) the car is garaged at the employee's home.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	» Is the vehicle a "modified" vehicle? Certain modified vehicles are exempt from FBT where modifications permanently change a car and cannot be readily reversed for the car to be regularly used alternately as a passenger or non-passenger car. An example of such a vehicle is a hearse.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
» If so, was the vehicle designed to carry less than one tonne and fewer than nine passengers? If so, the vehicle would be classified as a "car" for FBT purposes. If not, the provision of the vehicle may constitute a "residual fringe benefit" (see later). Different requirements in valuing the benefit then apply.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	» Is the vehicle an unregistered vehicle? If a car is unregistered for the full FBT year and used principally for business purposes (such as off-road or cars used on farms), any private use is exempt from FBT. A car that may be lawfully driven on a public road is regarded as being registered.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Exemptions » Is the vehicle a taxi, panel van or utility? If so, an exemption is available where there is private use of the vehicle by a current employee and the vehicle is either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a taxi, panel van or a utility designed to carry less than one tonne, or any other road vehicle designed to carry less than one tonne which is not designed to principally carry passengers, and the employee's use of such a vehicle is limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> travel between home and work travel incidental to travel in the course of performing employment-related duties, and non-work-related use that is minor, infrequent and irregular. This means (according to the ATO) less than 1,000 kms of private vehicle use, with no single private use journey in excess of 200 kms. 	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	» Does the vehicle qualify for the electric cars exemption? Zero or low emission vehicles (including plug-in hybrids) are exempt from FBT where they are first held from 1 July 2022 and made available to current employees or associates. The GST-inclusive cost of the EV cannot exceed $89,332, which is the Luxury Car Tax threshold for fuel efficient vehicles. Plug-in hybrids will lose their exemption after 31 March 2025 unless there is a binding commitment to continue to provide the vehicle after that date.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
